CHESTER BOOMING IN REAL ESTATE

CITY AND COUNTY DIRT IS VERY VALUABLE

Several Sales to be Held in this City and at Blackstock in the Next Few Days

That 1910 is going to see a great era of prosperity for Chester county and city is evidenced by the activity in real estate. In this issue of The Lantern appears several advertisements of real estate for sale and the people are very much interested. Howard Caldwell & Co. will have an auction sale of the Crosby heights on Dec. 15th and 16th. This land is located in the eastern part of the city and is very valuable for residential purposes. It includes the residence of Mr. D. P. Crosby and will sell well. Mr. Caldwell is in the city now looking after the sale and is expecting much benefit to accrue to him and to the people as a result.

Mr. J. R. Alexander, has disposed of his property on lower Center street to the Piedmont Realty Co., of Greenwood, and they will sell this property on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 16th, 17th and 18th of this month. This is a very desirable residential section and every preparation is being made to accommodate a large number of persons who wish to build homes. Mr. Wm. S. Benton, of Greenwood, is here looking after the sale and is prepared to sell a large number of lots. It is evident that the demand for building lots here will be great and that the people will turn out in large numbers.

There will be an auction sale of lots at Blackstock on the 16th inst. by the Carolina Development Co., of Greenville, N. C. This is a very valuable and desirable piece of property, well located and will be in great demand. The outlook is here, Blackstock Pearls of Thought.

A run of luck requires considerable spritling.
Diforce is merely the correction of a mistake.
A pessimist is a man who would rather be rich than be happy.
Many a man suffers from acute remorse, but it seldom gets chronic.
You can't always measure a man's religion by the length of his face.
Fools and children tell the truth, which proves that most of us are not fools.
Neither happiness nor misery can be lodged by the size of a bank account.
The man who is contented with a little is happier than the man who wants the earth.
A woman may use her religion as a shield and then kick because she can't use it as a hat.
It is astonishing to see how much patience a man has where his own faults are concerned.
Good luck must be bestowed to perform, but misfortune is always in the wings waiting to go on.
When the Goddess of Fortune smiles on some man she seems to have made some mighty poor selections.
A man trying to saw on a button is almost as distressing a sight as a woman trying to sharpen a pencil.
A man can afford to be magnanimous when he knows he is right, but he hates to give in when he knows he is wrong.—From "Mottos of the Gentle Giant," in the New York Times.

Modification of Southern Cattle Quarantine.

By an order issued by the secretary of agriculture effective December 6, the following areas are released from the Federal quarantine for Texas fever or tick fever of cattle: In Texas, Bexar County; in Oklahoma, Harmon County; in Kansas, Gray County west of Kansas City, Mexico and Orient; Railway, that portion of Caddo County north of the Mangum branch of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway, and the remainder of Caddo County; in Arkansas, the counties of Mississippi and Polk; in Tennessee, Warren County and the remainder of Putnam; and in North Carolina, in North Carolina, the counties of Coconino, Pinal, Greenlee and Anderson; in Virginia, Loudoun and Loudounburg counties, and in Florida, the counties of Alachua and Marion.

This action is taken as a result of the progress made in the extermination of the ticks which spread the disease. Since the beginning of this work in 1904 over 30,000 square miles of territory have been freed from ticks and released from quarantine.—From the Bureau of Animal Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

SMALL POX CASES NOT QUARANTINED

AT LEAST AUTHORITIES ARE NOT LOOKING AFTER IT

Need of County Board of Health Emphasized by Condition at Great Falls

Dr. J. B. McKown, of Great Falls, was in the city Wednesday and in reply to a question as to the condition of the small pox cases at that place said that none of the health authorities were looking after them. He said that the victims of the disease were negroes and that so far as he knew State Health Secretary Williams had taken no hand in the matter. Some of the citizens were worried over the situation. Unless the patients are quarantined and kept under restraint the small pox is likely to spread. The negroes are prone to move about and they carry the disease in all directions. The need of a county board of health is emphasized in this particular. Secretary Williams wrote to Supervisor Shannon that he would take charge of the matter. The supervisor is anxious to have the thing looked after but he hasn't jurisdiction in the matter and wants a board of health appointed. And all of the people are about dazed that unless a county board of health is appointed some serious disease will spread through the county. The matter will likely be pushed but just who should push it is not apparent. The need is urgent and the remedy is at hand and that is appoint a county board of health.

Will Give an Entertainment.

The Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist church will give a new talking entertainment this evening at the home of Mrs. O. O. Edwards. All those who talk will be fined 10 cents. Refreshments will be served and an evening of much pleasure is promised those who attend.

Two Gas Tanks Explode.

Hamberg.—The explosion of two gas tanks in the so called "Klebe's Garage" on the Elise front this afternoon, was followed by an extensive fire and the loss of many lives. The explosion was due to a leak in a new gasometer. Escaping gas entered the store house, where it came in contact with the fire, causing a terrible explosion. A large number of workmen were engaged in rebuilding and enlarging the plant. Twenty five of the men were employed near the gasometer. They disappeared in a mass of flames which shot up to a great height.

Complaint was made to The Lantern.

Complaint was made to The Lantern Wednesday by a citizen who lives near the York road that the odor from the refuse emptied just at the edge of town was bad and offensive to travelers along this road. He said the refuse was dumped on both sides of the road and that it was offensive not only to persons traveling the public highway but also the people who come to over the C. & N. W. railroad. This citizen said that this was a great nuisance and that the city board of health should look after it.

Business on the Boom.

Already people are doing their Christmas shopping and the business houses are on with the season rush. The Lantern urges the people to do their shopping early and thus avoid the rush of the last few days and be able to be more appreciated by the clerks and all others. The merchants of this city have laid in fine lines of everything and people coming here can get what they want without bothering with ordering it from away. Patronize the home industries and help your city and county.

PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS

JORDAN SCHOOL PROGRESSING PROF. BODIE

Dwelling Occupied by Mr. Jim Williford Burned—Other News.

Special to The Lantern: Judges, Dec. 7.—Christmas is just a little over two weeks off now and the housekeepers are beginning to prepare for it. The Methodists had preaching in their new church at 21 Bethel Sunday.

The Jordan school is progressing very nicely under the management of Prof. Bodie, from Saluda. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hough are preparing to move to Lancaster in the near future. We are sorry to see them leave our community. Mrs. James Kilgo and children, of Great Falls, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Rhoda Minor. Mr. and Mrs. George Nunery and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pittman, from near Edgemoor, visited relatives here recently. Mr. Walter Sloan is visiting relatives in Newberry. Mr. J. Q. Thomas and daughter, Miss Lotz, visited relatives here Sunday. Miss Jessie Turner is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Grace Nunery, near Edgemoor. Miss Kate Garrison left two weeks ago for Georgetown to take up school. A dwelling house on the Courthouse place, occupied by Mr. Jim Williford, was burned late yesterday afternoon with all the contents. Mr. Williford had some insurance on his household furniture.

Dr. J. B. McKown, of Great Falls, was among the visitors in the city yesterday.

Chester dirt is much in demand these days and will be more so next year.

Christmas will soon be here and Chester is preparing to enjoy a season of festivities.

We refer the city board of health to the complaint about the dumping of refuse matter near the York road. It needs attention.

Cotton went up on the tangle of the ginners report and just as The Lantern predicted it will continue to advance. The demand exceeds the supply.

What about the trolley line to Great Falls? It is absolutely necessary if we want to save the trade section to this city. What do the business men say about it?

Congress has convened but the threatened rebellion of the republican "insurgents" hasn't materialized as yet. One look at Cannon and they subsided.

It is said that Tafa is going to appoint the negroes to office in the north and whites to office in the south. It is time for a change and we of this city will approve of this determination.

TAX RETURNS FOR 1910.

Office of the County Auditor of Chester County, South Carolina.

Chester, S. C., Dec. 1, 1909.

As required by statute my books will be opened at my office in Chester on SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1910 and kept open until FEBRUARY 30, 1910, for the purpose of taking for taxation all PERSONAL and REAL PROPERTY held in Chester county on January 1, 1910. Particular attention is called to the fact that all real property must be assessed during the period mentioned, and all property real or personal not returned, will be subject to a penalty of 50 per cent. which will be added after February 30. All returns must be made to regular form and it is preferable that they be made by the property owner, in person or by my assistant, direct, on blanks provided for the purpose. The returns must be duly sworn to either before me or my assistant or some other officer qualified to administer an oath. All items of realty whether farms or town lots, must be listed separately, and no return which simply says, "same as last year," or "no changes," will be accepted. All taxpayers are particularly requested to inform themselves as to the number of their respective school districts, and where they have property in more than one school district, they will please make separate returns indicating the location of each piece of property.

For the convenience of all tax payers I will be at the following places to meet you on the days named to receive your tax returns. Please take notice of the days and times.

J. S. Stone's, Friday a. m., Jan. 7th, 9 to 130.

Homeseekers Opportunity in Chester

The Piedmont Realty Company, of Greenwood, has purchased from Mr. J. R. Alexander his property on Center Street adjoining the residence of Mrs. Jessie Oates, and will place the same on the market

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, DEC. 16, 17 and 18th

beginning each day at 10 A. M. [Thus inaugurating in Chester an opportunity for homeseekers such as they have never had before. On the dates above mentioned, carriages will be in readiness on the hill to take all persons who wish to avail themselves of this chance to buy a building lot out to the sale, and those who do not want to come to the hill, if they will phone 51 a carriage will be sent to take them to and from the sale.

You Can Take Time Choosing Lot

There will be no auction but salesmen will be on the grounds to show the people around and to sell them whatever lot they want. You can pick the lot and be in no hurry.

Anyone can buy a lot on our terms which are 10 per cent. of purchase price down and the balance 5 per cent each month thereafter.

No interest and no taxes to pay

This property sold only to white people which makes it very desirable as you will have no fear of having a negro for your next door neighbor.

The coming residential section

This property is located on the lower end of Center street, with cement sidewalks, and the city is under contract to install water and sewerage. It is laid off in streets and a main street connecting with Pinckney street will run through this property. Besides Chester is soon going to build another graded school and Mr. Alexander has offered a site for this purpose on this property, thus placing the school close at hand.

Golden Opportunity to Make Money

Those who purchase lots at this sale are going to double their money inside of two years. It is pretty well established that an electric line will shortly be built from Spartanburg to Great Falls via Chester and it will run right by this property thus

Greatly Enhancing Its Value

Chester is on the eve of a great growth and new residents are pouring into the city. This is the coming residential section and those who buy building lots here are going to do the best thing they ever did.

Chester, the "Queen of the Catawba" is the coming city of the Piedmont section. With its splendid railroad facilities, its great back country, its delightful climate, its cheap electric power, and its many other wonderful advantages Chester is going to enjoy a great increase in all lines in the next few years.

Now Buy that Building Lot

Take advantage of this golden opportunity. Remember the dates and the place. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December the 16th, 17th and 18th.

Become a property owner and you will become greatly benefitted. This is the chance for the poor man, the rich man, and for each and every one desiring a home. Take it.

A White Partridge.

In the early part of this week, a gentleman residing at Montmorenci, killed a snow white partridge—no far as known the only one ever heard of by residents of this city or section.

The bird was seen in a covey of ordinary partridges near Montmorenci, by Mr. Louis Mills, who happened to have his gun with him. The other birds flew when Mr. Mills came near them, but the white one hid in his companions and took refuge under some brush in the way Mr. Mills got a shot at it, and succeeded in bagging the most peculiar bird ever seen here.

It is presumed that the white partridge has hybrid, and it was probably the leathiest of some other bird which caused it to hide rather than take its chances in the air, as being white would make it peculiarly susceptible to the sportsman's gun. Only one feather on the bird had the color of a partridge.

The white partridge had been seen several times by hunters around Montmorenci, but it remained for Mr. Mills to bag it. Mr. Bag Courtney owns the bird and he expects to have it mounted by a taxidermist.—Allen Journal.

Billy, He's in Trouble.

I've got a letter, parson from my son away out West,
An' my heart's as heavy as an anvil in my breast,
To think the boy who's fater I had once so proudly plauded
Should wander from the path o' right an' come to such an end!
I told him when I left us, only three short years ago,
He'd find himself a plowman in a migh-ty crooked row—
He'd miss his father's counsel, and his mother's prayers, too,
But he said the Lord was hateful, an' he guessed he'd have to go.
I know that's his temptation for a sonneteer in the West,
But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist;
An' when he left I warn'd him o' the ever waitin' snares
That lie like hidden serpents in life's pathway every where.
Our Billy, he promised faithful to be, keener, an' allowed
He'd build a reputation that'd make us mighty proud;
But it seems as now my counsel sort o' faded from his mind,
An' now the boy's in trouble of the very vilest kind!
His letters come so seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed
That Billy was a tramp on a migh-ty rocky road;
But I never once imagined he would bow my head in shame,
An' in the dust would wander his ol' dad's honored name.
He writes from out in Denver, an' the story's mighty short;
I just can't tell his mother; it'd crush her poor ol' heart!
An' so I reckon, parson, you might break the news to her—
Billy's in the Legislature, but he doesn't say what fur.

New York, Dec. 2.—A flying machine factory whose backers expect to complete in next year's market, with the manufacturers of the Wrights and Curtis aeroplanes, is to be established at Middleton, Ohio, according to Mr. William Green, a New York aeroplane inventor who has just returned from a trip through Ohio and Michigan.
Dr. Green is to be the head of the new company which is backed, he says, by capitalists from Grand Rapids and other Western cities.
Dr. Green has made several short flights here during the past two months in a small triple-deck airplane of his own invention.

Horses Perish in Flames.

Lexington, Dec. 6.—One of Lexington's fires occurred just before 12 o'clock tonight when J. F. Hadrick's livery, stables burned. Twenty-six horses and mules, all feed and vehicles were consumed. The loss runs into several thousand dollars with but little insurance, perhaps not over fifty hundred.

For a while it looked as if a great deal of other property would go as the flames were in the heart of town and only the absence of wind saved other property. This is the second time fire has destroyed stables at this site.

The loss is very severe on Mr. Hadrick who is a very energetic, popular citizen, and he has the sympathy of the town.

Cincinnati.—Highway robbery, hitherto as far as Cincinnati records go, exclusively confined to men, was invaded by the gentler sex this morning when two women held up and robbed Miss North McDonald, a young and pretty stenographer.

Miss McDonald was on her way home from work early this morning, when she was accosted by two strangers of her own sex, who desired directions as to their way home. Miss McDonald was giving them the information, when one of the women slipped behind her and plucked her arms. Her accomplice swiftly searched the victim and secured $10. Both of the "brigands" escaped.

Memphis, Ala., Dec. 2.—There were fifty-five deaths from pellagra in Alabama from January 1 to October 1, 1900, according to figures of the state health department, with 30 cases yet under observation.

Of the fatalities, 21 were white and 34 negroes. About the same ratio as to race maintains with the cases under notice. A great many of the negro cases are in the asylums as are some of the whites. Of the 38 noted, about twenty are known to be habitual users of corn meal.

The large majority of the people affected are in the more humble walks of life. There are some, however, among the well-to-do and well-cared for.

Cherry, Ill.—Testimony tending to show that an inexperienced boy of 16, working in violation of the child labor law, started which caused the Cherry mine horror was introduced today at the coroner's inquest here.

Mat Francisco was the boy and worked under Bowenbeck, the cager, who disappeared the day following the accident. The boy testified that he pushed the loaded big cart which caught fire and left it standing close to the torch which ignited it. It was the first tale of her he ever handled and his supporters, he said, gave him no instructions about what to do with it.

Factory Inspector Davis' office declared that this testimony justified the already expressed opinion that the child labor law was freely violated in the Cherry mine to the great danger of the 500 miners employed there.

Mine Inspector Thomas Hudson testified that he had not inspected the mine since last July and did not know they were using open torches instead of electric lights, with which he knew the mine to be equipped.

New York.—A full set of autographs of the Presidents of the United States from Washington to Roosevelt has been purchased by a New York collector.

All the autographs are full letters signed with the exception of those of Hayes and McKinley, who are represented by manuscripts of addresses delivered by them. The price paid for the autographs was $930.

Chester Women Are Finding Relief at Last

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up", must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching back, or headaches, dizzy spells, breaking-down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than Greenville.—Prof. A. S. Townes, former president of Greenville Female College and for many years president of Greenville College for women, died last night at Clemson College, after a brief illness.

Prof. Townes was a noted educator and was for many years a contributor to the newspapers in the state being a literary man of ability.

"The most merciless enemy I had Dr. 29 years," declares Mrs. James Haynesville, Mr., "was poverty! I suffered intensely after losing my husband and could scarcely support my family as it was up there." Making a Country Schoolhouse Beautiful.

Setting a schoolhouse in a wooded area is more than having one in an open field without trees, for the beauty of the pupils is promoted by having the sunshine on the house at times. But a house standing on a bare lot, without even grass around it, and often an unpainted, barn-like structure is simply hideous. But where there is some attempt at planting it is generally in the nature of making a grove over the whole lot, and this, too, is wrong, for it prevents the growth of grass or the planting of flower beds and shrubbery.

Trees of large size should be planted on the outside to frame in a picture of a pretty lawn, and some flower beds. Make a wide border around the building and plant it with a variety of flowering shrubbery that will bloom at different times in the season. Have a walk curving from one side of the lot past the door and out at the other side, so that there can be a broad scope of grass in the center. Around the outside plant a variety of trees and give them room to take their natural form, making with them a broad, irregular border to the lot, and not planting them in straight rows like an orchard. Make these trees largely evergreen, for the school is held mainly in winter, but still have some deciduous ones for their spring beauty. They do not trim up the corners everywhere of the magnolia with an ugly stem, but let them branch from the ground in natural form.

Keep the playground in the rear and screen out the rear buildings of convenience with tall trees and shrubs. On the outer edges of the shrubbery border around the house, which screens the base of the building, you can have full planted bulbs, such as hyacinths and tulips and narcissus, and follow these in summer with annual plants that the pupils can be taught to raise from seed in boxes and outside. Once get the children interested in making the first of the lot beautiful and they will not damage it. Lawn mowers are very cheap now, and the lawn should be regularly mown and the grass annually top dressed with fertilizer to promote the growth of the grass.

Now is the time for planting the deciduous trees and shrubbery, but spring will be better for the evergreens.

Then, where the long leaf pine grows go into the woods and with a sharp spade cut under the young trees a foot or so high; cut the top root.

Then let them stand another season, and they can be moved after they have made more lateral roots. Little seeds are a lot of trouble to plant, and also the little cypress trees from the swamps, and they make finer trees on the dry ground than in the swamps. Hollies can be easily moved in spring if all the leaves are pulled off, but will certainly fall if you do not remove the leaves. Magnolias also should have the leaves taken off so that the roots can get a start before the leaves evaporate the moisture too much.—W. F. Massey, in Raleigh, (N. C.) Progressive Farmer.

Christmas Closing.

Christmas day falls this year on Sunday, and some are wondering whether the universal custom and close on that day. There has been nothing definite decided so far. The Lantern is aware that a movement is on foot to keep open Christmas day since it falls on Saturday and close the following Monday instead. Definite announcement of this will be made through The Lantern at the proper time.

E. L. T. Nichols Kodaking Party.

Yorkville.—Mr. L. T. Nichols has returned from Edgemont, N. C., having entertained a kodaking party in the beautiful and interesting mountains. Some very beautiful and interesting pictures were secured, especially on the Watauga river, which has been recently completed and is one of the finest rivers in the country and very richly deserves the favorable comments we have noticed in all the leading Southern papers. The weather being favorable, and being one of the prettiest seasons in these lovely mountains, some fine pictures were made of the Mountain Home Club and the surrounding mountains, a very beautiful and inviting location for the building of such an enterprise.

The groups have been taken out and over two miles of excellent roads constructed, the main building, which will be large and exceedingly attractive, is nearing completion. This work has been under the personal supervision of M. L. T. Nichols, general manager of the C. & N. W. Railway, also president of this institution.

Among the guests on this trip were: Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rowe, of Louisville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Anna L. Twelvetree, of Charlotte, N. C.; Miss Clara B. Bates, of Fairfield county, S. C.; Miss Lotta M. Groeschel, Mr. J. W. Fletcher, Mr. L. B. Nichols, of Chester and Mrs. Kerr, of New York City.

Raleigh, N. C., December 7.—The Progressive Farmer, the most largely circulated paper weekly in the South, prints a notable article this week arguing ambitious white tenant farmers to buy land now deploring that the whole South must stand together to encourage the development of a class of prosperous small white farmers as the backbone of the country. The big plantations. It declares holds back progress. The article says:

"We hope we have seen about the last of Southern white farmers leaving the farm to take work in cotton mills. We are anxious to see the manufacturing enterprises of the South build up, but we are more anxious to see the farm lands of the South held by prosperous small white farmers, and to see these small white farmers have their part in the great agricultural awakening now going on. Someone has wisely said that in all ages and all countries the men or the classes who own the land sooner or later make themselves the aristocracy of that country. We have not come to this condition so rapidly in America as in other countries, because of the abundance of cheap land resulting from the weakness of the sectlement and the sparseness of population as yet; but in the long run the history of other countries must be repeated here.

These thoughts are very forcibly put in a note through a cotton mill will give the other day saw to hundreds of white employees—men, women, and children—who have left the farm to become the homeless hordes of the cotton mill and in the process, finding no place in our country for them, are left on the farm and are becoming land holders in rapidly increasing numbers. For W. M. Dubois, a prominent Georgia negro educator, has just published a map showing that since 1880 Georgia negroes have increased their land holdings from 80,000 to 1,400,000 acres, and yet own within the State of Georgia about one-third of the entire State of Georgia.

Not only this, but the negro children are going to school and developing healthy bodies in the open air and healthy surroundings of country life instead of being shut up in the cotton mill, overworked, under educated, and poorly developed physically. The tendency must be in all cotton mill so long as the Legislatures of the South too subservient to the less humane mill owners to oblige the lives of restricting child labor in the mills—the less humane mill owners, we say, because there are many thoughtful and far seeing mill owners who heartily favor strict regulations.

Remember we have no ill will toward the cotton manufacturers; we have no ill will toward the negro; we do not realize very strongly, however, that the safety of the South depends upon the presence of a large white rural population. The drift to the towns and cities will probably force this directly, but also indirectly, because when once the population of a community becomes predominantly negro, the small number of white people left may be forced to physically in order to find sufficient numbers for a society of their own.

It was a wise saying of James Oliver's "Fanny" is the land that is filled by the man who owns it, and the great need of the South today is to encourage the holding of small farms by white farmers. We repeat that, we say this in no ill will to the negro; in fact it should not be necessary for us to say this, because no one else in the South has preached more persistently than we the doctrine that it is the intelligent, prosperous negro who helps, and the ignorant, poverty breeding negro who makes us all poor—but we say this because of white and black alike because the best interest of both races demands that the rural South maintain its large white population. Unless this is done the negro himself will not progress as rapidly as he will with white guidance, and unless this is done, the cities of the South must also inevitably go backward.

We urge every white tenant farmer, and especially every white man who for any reason is thinking of becoming somebody's hired man in town instead of owning his home in the country to buy land. The great fault of the South, for the good of our section as a whole, must be broken up. We must encourage the spirit of home owning, with every man life lived under his own vine and fig tree, and we must especially encourage the development of a great class of small white farmers.

The saying of the rural South of the white race is one of the most important problems now before the people of the Cotton Belt.

In this connection, there is another thing that ought to be mentioned, and that is the problem of immigration. The Farmers' Union and other farmers' organizations are right in protesting against the coming of large numbers of Italian, Russian, Hungarian, Poles, etc. This would only make a bad matter worse, and complicate matters still further. What would help, however, is the coming of a large number of wide awake Northern and Western farmers, buying small farms among us and making their farms objects. Lessons in stock raising and other lines of diversified agriculture. These Northern and Western farmers will also set a good example for our Southern people in that they are ready to do any and all kinds of work with their own hands, entirely independent of hired labor. As a Southerner, reared on the farm and descendant of generations of Southern farmers, we must confess the need of our people at this point, and the help that we would get here from an increased number of wide awake Western settlers besides the aid they would render in keeping up the balance of population between the two races in the South and preventing the predominance of a colored farming population, which, we repeat, would be undesirable for both whites and blacks and ruinous to our section as a whole."

Los Angeles.—Declaring the loss of his position forced her to become a burglar, Mary Moll, a stenographer, was arrested here this morning. She confessed her guilt of two robberies.

Fashion Notes.

Paris is mad over hats and beads. Never has lace been so unimportantly used. Old red is a prime favorite with black. Yellow is more to be seen than for some time.

Lace princess gowns are a pretty fashion, and lily of the valley, either real or the imitation, is used. Black shoes, tied with ribbon the color of the gown, is one of the latest of the Parisian fancies.

Superb embroidery, trimming, and colors in color show touches are introduced into the designs.

Black velvet, to black, white, and cream color, and much in favor, but are more stylish than becoming.

For slim-throated wearers, some novel neck pieces show little, being arranged at the top of the neck.

Among the fads of the moment is the one of having the sleeves all the way up on the outside of the arm.

The most satisfactory stocks just now are made of embroidered flannel, and the striped, beautiful Irish lace, which is so very fashionable.

Dainty lace embroideries and handwork are much used in lingerie. Ribbons run through hand made eyes, giving the lace touch of beauty.

The various pattern shades are to be very good style; violet, plum and purple shades will be popular, but not too such an extent as heretofore.

All buttons are large, and usually of jet or dull metal. A few new ones are of colored crystal or jet with a one-point quilling of satin around them.

If about flowers will take a considerable place among hat trimmings this season, in spite of the fact that they cost about twice as much as last season.

Travel hats are already here and are of the lightest possible make of felt. Some of them are turned up, sharply at one side—the so called "left side tilt."

The automobile bonnet of poke persuasion, borrowed from early Victorian style, has been a leader all the past season, and is going on its way with apparently unabated success.

Gloves, G. C.—The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Godfrey was probably fatally burned yesterday morning. The mother was at the home, having the little 5 year old girl and her brother, who is 3, in the house. The clothing of the little girl caught fire and was burned entirely off before the mother could get her. It is about ten miles from Gaffney, but Dr. Nesbitt was soon on the scene and did everything for the child that could be done, but very little hope is entertained for her recovery.

Savannah, Ga.—After taking such elaborate care to an effort to conceal his identity that he even cut the maker's name tag from his clothing, an unknown man, fashionably dressed, was found dead in a lonely field west of this city at noon today, a costly pistol at his side and a bullet hole in his head.

A pawn ticket, the only one except that it is stated he came to Savannah as a passenger on a steamer from New York, bears the name of "B. H. Parrish." He is unknown in Savannah and the police are completely in the dark as to his home or real name. However inquiries have been started through the offices of the steamship line in an effort to trace the stranger in New York.

The man had died about probably 24 hours when found. The place of his death is little frequented. He had evidently killed himself after he was drunk on the ground with his clothing neatly arranged. In his pocket was a box of cartridges. He was about 35 years of age.

Mr. T. J. Nichols reports that sold four bales of Allen long staple cotton in Gastonia a few days ago at 18 cents a pound. The cotton had a staple of an inch and a half. Mr. Nichols says the yield per acre has been about satisfactory as is the case with other varieties. He has several more bales for sale. This variety of cotton cannot be used to advantage, except by the mills that are specially prepared to spin it—Yorkville Register.

Lexington.—Charged with setting fire to his brother's barn, West Crim, a well known white man about 60 years old, today was arrested at his home near Swana and brought to jail here. Crim denies the charge. The barn was on the farm rented from Vandy Crim, by J. P. Jefferson. Last night about 11 o'clock it burned to the ground. Jefferson suspected that the fire was of incendiary origin and had the dogs from the county chalking sent for. The dogs followed the track from the barn to a spot near West Crim's house.

Jefferson then swore out a warrant for West Crim and Deputy Sheriff Miller arrested Crim at his home in the Swana section. Crim submitted to arrest without making trouble, but denied his guilt. He was brought here tonight and put in jail.

The Crim family is well known in the Swana section of this county.

It's bones for those who come late.—Astin.
